

The 4th International Summer School Spectroelectrochemistry will take place at the Center of Spectroelectrochemistry, Leibniz Institute for Solid State and Materials Research (IFW Dresden), in Dresden, Germany from 18th to 25th August 2017.

The summer school will be focused on the theoretical background and practical training in spectroelectrochemistry and give an overview on the development of spectroelectrochemical techniques like:

In situ ESR spectroelectrochemistry
In situ NMR spectroelectrochemistry
In situ UV-vis-NIR spectroelectrochemistry
In situ ESR/UV-vis-NIR spectroelectrochemistry
In situ Luminescence spectroelectrochemistry
In situ IR spectroelectrochemistry
In situ Raman spectroelectrochemistry

The course presents tutorial lectures on the methods by renowned scientists and an experimental training in all methods given above. Each participant can join the practical training in spectroelectrochemical techniques and their applications for applied research. The summer school provides opportunities to discuss recent results and first experience in spectroelectrochemistry by a poster presentation. All participants will receive a special certificate confirming the successful participation in the summer school.

We are looking forward seeing you in Dresden.
